

Foreign Trade Zones

INzone – The Greater Indianapolis Foreign Trade Zone

INzone (FTZ #72) is Central Indiana’s foreign trade zone – an international economic incentives program designed to enhance foreign trade. INzone offers businesses quick access to international air travel, domestic and international shippers, and a network of major highways that cross through Central Indiana.

INzone Advantages

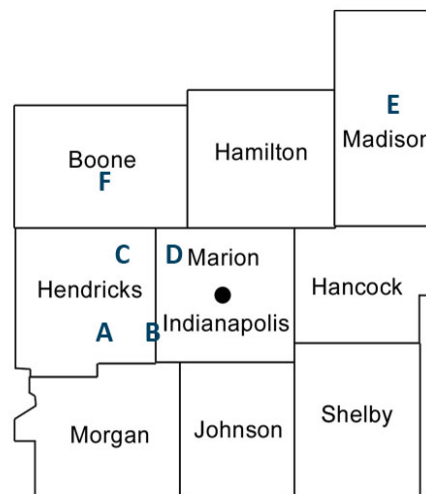

Goods that are imported into or exported out of INzone are not subject to U.S. Customs duties. Within an FTZ environment you may mix, manipulate, test, clean, sample, salvage, process, display, repair, destroy, assemble and manufacture your merchandise and goods. INzone provides general warehousing, transportation coordination, third-party logistics, repackaging and relabeling, and import/export services.

INzone manages six magnet sites in Central Indiana. Magnet sites are located at Indianapolis International Airport, AllPoints Midwest, EaglePoint Business Park, Park 100, Lebanon Business Park and the City of Anderson. INzone subzones are located at many Central Indiana manufacturing/assembly facilities. Some Central Indiana businesses with subzones include Eli Lilly & Company, Brightpoint, Thomson, SMC Corporation, Alpine Electronics, Rolls-Royce and Endress+Hauser. In addition, there are over a dozen General Purpose Zone (GPZ) operators.

All counties in Indiana (except Randolph) have ASF Foreign Trade Zone designation which allows all commercial and business zoned properties access to the Foreign Trade Zone program quickly and inexpensively.
